

Presentation pitches

Presentation is a skill, and a good presentation does not happen by accident. The difference between an ok presentation and an exceptional one is planning and preparation. A great presentation is the often the difference between success and failure. Let me help your team plan and create outstanding presentations and delivery for educational events, pitches, results feed back, sales and strategic plans. Allowing time and assistance for planning and vision of the bigger picture creates unique positive presentations that make a difference

Train the Trainer

Training is part skill part art, and the difference between a great trainer and a poor trainer is passion and preparation. If you have teams of people that need to deliver training then this course will make their training more effective and more effective. By concentrating on practical accelerated learning methods, trainers can learn to help course participants to help themselves. The other skill a trainer needs is self awareness so this course asks trainers and potential trainers to examine their own motivations and beliefs about learning to create better more productive learning experiences no matter where, when or who they train. This course can be tailor made to deal with problems or to create specific courses with teams that have to deliver training both in the UK and overseas.

Come to the edge. He said
They said. We are afraid.
Come to the edge. He said.
They came.
He pushed them, and they flew....
Guillaume Apollinaire.

Animal behaviour

As an animal welfare organisation, animal behaviour is your foundation, whether you are aware of it or not. If you have a team that understand the science behind animal behaviour and the practical application of that knowledge, then you can transform your organisations interaction with your target animal. An understanding of the practical application of animal behaviour for collection officers, inspectors, trainers, policy makers, handlers and carers will transform workplace behaviour and produce a more professional delivery of the organisation. This course develops the participants understanding of behaviour in a fun interactive way and can target specific organisational concerns resulting in safer more effective working practices and happier animals. Each course is tailor made for the needs of your organisation in how to use and apply the science of behav-

The Wisdom of Horses

Equines are honest animals that communicate and co-operate with each other and with man easily, therefore they can be used to demonstrate the principles of communication, team building and leadership in an interactive, non-confrontational manner with unique results.

Everyone knows horses, donkeys and mules and yet few people really know them, what they can teach us and how an animal that has been much misunderstood can lead us to a greater understanding of ourselves. These training programmes combine learning about the art and science of behaviour, communication, leadership with the opportunity to experience the practical application of learning.

By using horses as facilitators for learning, the course participants can experience the wisdom of correct action and personal development in a non-confrontational and non-threatening way. The interaction between course participants and horses provides accelerated learning opportunities and individual insight. By looking at the skills required to work with, handle and manage horses course participants can learn about themselves and the principles and techniques of communication, learning and behaviour

This is a course provides fundraising opportunities and increases the profile of the organisations work. Designed primarily for equine organisations and charities. It can either be run as an in house course for staff at any level or organised for external business as a way of raising money for the organisation and increasing awareness.

Excellence is to do a common thing in an uncommon way
Booker T Washington

Do poor communication, bad timing and misunderstandings frustrate you and hold your team back from reaching their potential? Do you want to become more authentic and sustainable in your communications with everyone around you?

Principled Centred Training

By teaching people how to think not what to think Principled Centred Training allows each course participant to develop their own potential. I work with long term sustainable principles that mean you have quality facilitation and training services you can trust to deliver what you want and in a way you need.

To discuss your individual requirements, call or click
Email: benhart@hartshorsemanship.com
Phone: 07775657424
www.hartshorsemanship.com